Performance Data: Share Class A Acc.

Source: Lipper, Russell Mellon, Basis: Total Return, NAV to NAV, UK Net Income Reinvested.

A new retail A Share class was created on 6 May 2005 when the Aberdeen Managed Portfolio Unit Trust merged with the Aberdeen Balanced Managed Fund. A historical performance track record exists for the institutional C Share class of the Aberdeen Balanced Managed Fund (launched in June 2002), which is available on request.

On 19 August 2006 the Fund changed its name to Aberdeen Multi-Asset Fund.

These figures do not include the initial charge; if this is paid it will reduce performance from that shown.

Past performance is not a guide to future performance. The value of shares may go down as well as up and an investor may not get back the amount invested.

Fund managers' report

Global equities had a better start to the third quarter with the MSCI World index returning 5.8% in July in local currency terms. Currency effects were negative for the UK investor reducing the total return from overseas equities to 3.3%. The UK equity market outperformed with a total return of 8% from the FTSE All Share index.

The economic data flow seemed to support investor concerns about a slowdown in the global recovery as the benefits from inventory restocking and fiscal stimulus began to wane. In particular, in the US the data surprised to the downside with deflationary worries intensifying.

Fund managers' report continues overleaf

The risk outlined overleaf relating to exchange rate movements is particularly relevant to this Fund but should be read in conjunction with all warnings and comments given in the prospectus.

Aberdeen Multi-Asset Fund

Elsewhere, risky assets benefited from the release of the European bank stress tests which despite, scepticism about their severity, provided much needed transparency to markets about banks' balance sheets. It appears the risk of contagion from the European sovereign/banking crisis has been reduced for the time being.

Over the month, our tactical asset allocation policy on the fund has not changed. Several underlying equity positions in the portfolio have been topped up on price weaknesses, including Cobham and Roche. We have also reduced our weightings in Mapfre and Vodafone Group following a recent strong rebound.

Important information

Risk factors you should consider before investing:

- The value of shares and the income from them can go down as well as up and you may get back less than the amount invested.
- Movements in exchange rates can impact on both the level of income received and the capital value of your investment. If the currency of your country of residence strengthens against the currency in which the underlying investments of the Fund are made, the value of your investment will reduce and vice versa.
- Past performance is not a guide to the future.
- The annual management charge for the Fund will be charged to the Fund's income account. If insufficient income is generated by the Fund to cover the annual management charge, the balance will be deducted from the Fund's capital and, to that extent, will constrain capital growth.
- Derivatives may be used for both investment and hedging using efficient portfolio management style techniques which means that, due to its portfolio composition, the net asset value of the Fund may be more volatile. Using derivatives for investment purposes will increase the risk profile of the Fund.
